

Join the team at the Mountain Horticultural Crops Research & Extension Center as a Temporary Research Technician

NC STATE

MTN HORT

Mills River, NC

MHCREC is now hiring temporary Research Technicians to work in the growing season of 2022. This position provides operational support for agricultural crops such as apples, tomatoes, and ornamentals. The position will provide support to existing research programs through field work and cultural crop care. This is a great learning opportunity and resume building experience for those just out of college. Or, for those returning to college in the fall, apply for credits!
